A remake of Den Anden Side

Logline:

Synopsis:

"Bitter Blood" is a modern drama-thriller film that explores the depth of internal hatred within a family. This emotionally charged film delves into the themes of revenge and prejudice, painting a gripping portrait of their destructive power. At its core, the story revolves around a family member whose unforgivable actions have ignited a seething hatred within his relatives and the community. The depth of his betrayal has left an indelible scar, sparking a collective thirst for retribution.

The film aims to shed light on the devastating consequences of hatred and how it can distort the human psyche. It fearlessly portrays the dark path that hatred can lead us down, and the horrors it can unleash upon individuals and society as a whole.

Director Statement:

"Bitter Blood" is a deeply layered film that explores the psychological effects of hatred. The goal from the beginning was to create a more atypical and brutally honest film — a hate-and-torture drama. This film demonstrates what happens when we let hatred take control.

Prejudice is a key focus in the story. In many ways, it's these very prejudices that ignite the hatred depicted. The film also carries a dark tone and maintains high tension throughout. It was never meant to be a film one would watch repeatedly, but rather a meaningful cinematic experience that delivers a timely and powerful message people can learn from.
